

Kai health center received huge donations from German charitable NGO

Kai health center, localized in Kumbo subdivision within the North-West region of Cameroon, is small but its attributions are very large according to the grand number of diseases it must face days after days in its area. So, the duty of doctors turns into nightmare owing to the lackness of technical materials in general and competences to use them.

While people were suffering from these situations, a German NGO called Arzt Hilft ruled by the Cameroonian Alain Nguento specialized in charitable donations arrived in Kumbo as a God's gift for this medical center on Saturday September 22, 2012.

A prior sensibilization had been made so as to inform people days before about the arrival of a team of doctors coming directly from Germany that will at time give donations in materials as hospital beds and drugs to people after auscultating them. The now elected patients will receive so suitable remedies for their sickness freely. For the occasion, an important crowd of ill persons answered presents at the medical center and follow sagely the two days tending them the doctors acted.

For the first day, namely Saturday September 22, Arzt Hilft with Doctor Alain Nguento and all his colleagues gave beds and drugs donations for a XAF value worth than 6,000,000! A veritable fairy tale for these populations who never see such a thing before! Then they began nursing people and sharing drugs gratuitously.

The climax for this day was when the German team had been decorated in traditional clothes, honored them as the local tradition says.

For the second day, things follow their normal course without any problem and patients were very grateful to doctors coming so far for aid them recover from diseases. The offer of sick patients wasn't diminishing at all and this force the German donators to promise publicly that they will turn back there sooner.

Germans doctors are nursing people in Kai!
